

Welcome to the Parent Coaching Institute

About Our Parent Coach Training Program

At the Parent Coaching Institute we train professionals to become highly skilled and sought-after Parent Coaches. We help moms and dads find the right parent coach. And we educate and consult on important issues affecting families today.

We are the Leader in the Parent Coaching Profession.

The Parent Coaching Institute and Seattle Pacific University are proud to offer an innovative one-year Parent Coach Certification® Training Program designed exclusively for you, the busy professional who desires to become a PCI Certified Parent Coach®.

At the PCI, we are dedicated to upholding the highest standards for parent coach training. As an institute, made up of heart-centered, highly skilled industry leaders, our number one priority is to offer individualized, personalized training to each participant. We value relationships. The parent/child relationship is sacred. The parent coach/parent relationship is sacred. As is our relationship with you.

Join Us!

If you are a forward-thinking professional with an undergraduate degree and a deep calling to work with parents, welcome home. We seek the “best of the best” for our acclaimed one-year, graduate-level, distance-learning Parent Coach Certification® Program. As a PCI Certified Parent Coach®, you’ll have the opportunity to create a parent coaching practice, working with moms and dads who want to take their parenting to the next level.

the Ideal pci Candidate

The Ideal PCI Candidate is a forward-thinking person who possesses superlative integrity, excellent communication skills, personal authenticity, and feels strongly that parent coaching is a true calling. The PCI Vision/Movement and its model and standards resonate strongly with the ideal PCI Candidate. This person appreciates all the new information and learning opportunities within the PCI training program and post-graduate activities. Ideally, a sought-after PCI candidate is highly motivated to find new ways to effectively support parents in our increasingly complex society. Thriving in a like-minded professional community, the ideal PCI candidate enjoys sharing with colleagues while advancing his/her own career. An undergraduate degree and at least two years of experience working with parents is required.

The PCI Vision:

PCI PARENT COACH + PARENT =
A NEW WORLD STANDARD FOR FAMILIES.

What makes the PCI Program World Class? The PCI distance learning program is unique in so many ways—for now, let's discuss the three big distinctions that set us apart from any other parent coach training organization . . .

1 We're serious.

Our PCI curriculum meets the standards of a 5000-graduate level program. Developed by Gloria DeGaetano over a three-year period, the PCI curriculum is intentionally designed to provide a cutting edge learning experience for each student. As a PCI student, you can be assured that the curriculum is fresh, new and synthesized in a constructive and practical way—providing you with all the necessary tools to become the best parent coach you can be.

What your training program includes:

For more specifics on what is included in your Parent Coach Certification® Program, the Program fee, and how Certification is granted, please go to www.thepci.org and click Program Overview. You can get your questions answered there, too! Just click on Frequently Asked Questions at the bottom of the page.

2 We're high-touch.

The PCI program does not entail any on-line work or chat rooms. Rather, as a PCI student, you receive dynamic and comprehensive training materials for home study, and then join group discussions via a telephone bridge line on a regular basis. We use telephone technology to connect in powerful ways that create connections between you and our staff, and allow our curriculum to become more fully actualized.

3 We're in-person.

The PCI offers four highly anticipated on-site workshops throughout your year-long training program. Most of the workshops are offered in the Pacific Northwest. If you are unable to attend a workshop for any reason, we offer an alternative way to get content. Each workshop is uniquely designed to deepen your learning and provide important role-playing opportunities.

To Apply

If you are an interested candidate, we welcome your sincere consideration and application. Please go to www.thepci.org for detailed information on our application process. Also, you may contact us at 425.401.1519 or 888.599.4447.

PCI Founder & CEO
Gloria DeGaetano created The Parent Coaching Institute in 2000, offering a new paradigm for supporting families in our increasingly complex society. Gloria's passion is forwarding the mission of the PCI—to link every parent in the world with a PCI parent coach. She's intimately involved in all aspects of this growing organization and works together with her dedicated staff to insure the highest level of training and service to both students and parents. An educator since 1973, Gloria has been a classroom teacher, reading specialist, school district administrator and university instructor. The mother of two grown sons, she is a sought-after favorite for keynotes and workshops around the country.
